

Dos and don'ts: In this image released by the Quebec government, the three examples at the top show how public employees in Quebec would be allowed to wear religious symbols in the workplace. The five below are examples of violations of the proposed rules. (September 10th, 2013, Government of Quebec)