

The World, According to You

Without consulting any maps, draw a map of the world as you see it in your mind, identifying as many landmarks/countries/cities/continents as you can think of.