

What are some of the pressures this soldier may have to deal with upon returning home to Waterdown following the First World War?

